

Delock Fast Charging Cable USB 2.0 A male > female + Micro USB 2.0 male 1 m

Description

Use this USB charging cable from Delock to charge your e.g. smartphone with Micro USB interface. Through the USB BC 1.2 specification you can charge your connected device faster, compared to a common charging cable, provided that your device supports this specification. The cable can be connected to your PC, laptop or power supply via USB-A male connector. An USB port will still be available through the integrated USB-A female interface.
